

Dear Mrs. Napolitano,

Since your election in 1998, you have become known as an integer and morally upstanding individual to carry out the duty of your important office with wisdom and responsibility.

I would like to beg you to please apply these attributes to the Debbie Milke case and judge for yourself. I trust you have the courage to correct a wrong before it is too late.

Respectfully,